EDUCATION | AWARENESS | CHANGE

Holly's Hope was founded in memory of Holly Newton, whose life was tragically taken at just 15 years old.

Our mission

We help young people recognise unhealthy and abusive relationship behaviours, seek support and understand that coercive control, stalking and abuse can affect teenagers too.

Through education, awareness and advocacy, we work to strengthen the response to teenage relationship abuse and help build a safer future for children.

Holly Newton - Forever 15

A lasting legacy, driven by love and the need for change.

What we do

Holly's Hope brings real-life experience into education, professional conversations and campaigning for change.

School education & workshops

Age-appropriate sessions on healthy relationships, warning signs, coercive control, stalking, misogyny and speaking up safely.

Professional awareness & training

Talks for educators, safeguarding professionals and organisations, complementing rather than replacing statutory safeguarding training.

Public speaking & conferences

Lived-experience contributions to panels, events and conversations about young people's safety and relationships.

Campaigning & policy engagement

Advocacy for Holly's Law and stronger recognition and protection for children under 16 experiencing relationship abuse.

Working with schools, professionals and policymakers

Education. Prevention. Collaboration. Advocacy.

Help us make change happen

We welcome opportunities to collaborate with schools, safeguarding teams, conference organisers, community partners and organisations committed to protecting young people.

Invite Holly's Hope

Book an educational workshop, invite a speaker to your event, explore staff awareness training or discuss a partnership that supports our mission.

Support Holly's Law

Our campaign seeks better recognition and protection for children under 16 who experience abuse in teenage relationships. We continue to engage with decision-makers and advocate for meaningful change.
